Crow's Nest Pass Field Coal Mines Working Slack Time

All mines in Crow's Nest Pass are on a three and four day working week. The mines on the Alberta side of the Pass have been on short time for well over one year and has become a regular sequence. The resultant lack of income to the miners is keenly felt throughout the business and services of the Pass. At present there does not appear to be any significant change in the coal markets tending to improve this condition and therefore pay day will be short for the Christmas period.

In the British Columbia section of the Pass, that is, the Michel and Fernie fields, the miners have fared much better, having lost but 30 days each since September 1, 1932. A large briquetting plant is being constructed at Michel and it is expected that in the near future a full five-day week will be resumed. By-product plants at Michel use a major portion of all coal mined at Michel and Fernie, producing tar, coke, etc.

A bus now travels from Coleman to Michel daily, transporting miners from this area to the Michel mine. Some twenty certificated miners are still required at the Michel mine as reported by F. J. Lote, manager of the Blairmore office of the Unemployment Commission.

LUMBER INDUSTRY

In the lumbering industry, practically all the sawmills and logging camps of the East Kootenay are closed down due to the strike. Operators and camps not unionized are also compelled to close as are planer mills who receive their products.

Fernie, Michel, Cranbrook and all smaller localities are feeling the serious loss of this payroll income. Operators are firm in their stand towards the employees. Lumber demand and prices have fallen considerably and operators are prepared to close down until late next spring, as loss of orders and weather conditions will prevent operations.

Council Hear Committee Reports

The mayor and all councillors sat in on regular session at the council meeting a week ago Tuesday night.

Councillor Wavrean reported on the work done in regards the Welfare Committee stating that the Salvation Army and the United Church had expressed willingness to serve on the committee. Padre Moss and Father Sullivan were yet to be contacted. On motion of the council, Councillor Wavrean will represent the council on the board.

Councillor Wood, chairman of the police committee, reported on the matter of the police car and reported a plan of paying repairs on the car plus 5 cents per mile, the policeman being responsible for the purchase of a new car when needed. After some discussion the council voted to try this plan for a three month period.

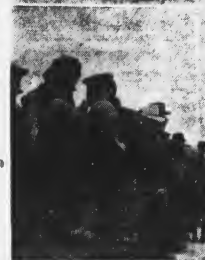

The matter of taxis came before council again, J. Koury notifying that he intended applying for a licence and would use space available on the streets. Council agreed that they would have no objection, but could not allot any stand to this new venture.

A letter was received from W. Klebinksi asking that he be allowed to operate his taxi stand in front of the Grand Union. Council discussed the matter and brought up again the law that no parking could be permitted in front of a hotel entrance. This law and the desire to provide main street parking for private citizens had resulted in moving the one stand from in front of the Coleman Hotel to the avenue, and the mutual agreement that the other stand be located on the Grand Union parking lot. Snow was a problem that couldn't alter this decision as council felt that other business men had the snow problem and removed it by shovelling their own area free. It was decided to stay with the original decision.

The matter of the West Coleman bridge came up again with information that it had been barricaded and signs erected from time to time with motorists tearing down the barricades. The government culvert has been ordered and will be installed as soon as it arrives. Until this time the bridge poses a danger to motorists and is to be fenced off.

C.N.R. OPENS LYNN LAKE LINE—The new Canadian National Railway line from Sherridon to Lynn Lake, in Northern Manitoba, was officially opened on November 9th when Donald Gordon, chairman and president, C.N.R., drove the last spike in the 144-mile link. The arrival of steel coincided with the advent of production of Sherridon's new nickel and copper mine. Top, right, shows Mr. Gordon, (centre), S. F. Dingle, C.N.R. vice-president of operations, and Eldon L. Brown, (right), president of Sherridon Mines Limited.

Briquette Plant Taking Shape

The briquette plant being erected at the International property by Coleman Collieries is fast taking shape.

To the end of last week a great deal of preliminary work had been completed and the structural steel work advancing rapidly.

Christmas Air Takes Hold

The Christmas spirit was more evident last week with the stores beginning to decorate for the annual occasion. Young fry around town were talking more about Santa Claus and the odd person was heard to mention that it was nearly time to head into the bush for the tree.

Hardware stores have come up with a good supply of toys and other gift items this year.

Street Numbering Progresses Favorably

It was announced last weekend that the house and street numbering project in East Coleman is progressing favourably. The campaign has been completed on the north side of the river, 96 lots having been covered and all owners agreeing to take numbers.

It was expected that the south side of the river would be canvassed last week-end following which the numbers will be distributed and collected for.

Mary D'Appolonia Recipient Of Scholarship

Miss Mary D'Appolonia was recently declared the winner of Scholarship "A" for the last school year. This scholarship is given each year as an incentive to good work and as an aid to further study. It goes to the Grade XII student who gets the highest average standing in departmental examinations among the students of the Pincher Creek and St. Michael's High Schools.

Miss D'Appolonia was a student at St. Michael's last year. She is continuing her studies in the Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Alberta.

Miss D'Appolonia is the daughter of Mr. and the late Mrs. Ed D'Appolonia of Coleman.

Cpl. R. T. MacDonald, of Coleman, was among those returning from service with the Canadian Army overseas last week.

Cpl. MacDonald was one of more than 1000 members of Canada's 27th Brigade that arrived back in Canada aboard the S.S. Atlantic, the men having seen service with the NATO forces in Europe.

Folk Dancers From Toronto Please Crowd

On Sunday, Nov. 22, the Toronto Folk Dancers and singers occupied Crow's Nest pass lovers with one of the finest musical performances ever heard in this district. Mrs. Fagel Gartner of Toronto who is the excellent director, also presides at the piano. The professional group who have left their families and jobs in Toronto to help spread good music throughout our country consisted of Clara Klein, Gital, Chapman, Ruth Budd, Joan Orenstein, Maurice and Ester Doljov. Simone Cook, Jerry Goodis, Mary

This unique group was organized two years ago by the highly talented artist and pianist, Miss Gartner, and they are at present touring Canada bringing beautiful music to Canadian and assisting greatly in spreading culture in small communities, that are in great need of such missionary work.

The repertoire of the folk singers consisted of folk songs of many nationalities sung with ease in each language and the dancers presented dances of many lands.

An entire section could be devoted to their excellent performance and only a group of fine musicians could have given such an afternoon of beautiful work. The program opened with the reading of a Sunday religious sermon befitting to the day, by Miss Ruth Budd former member of the Vancouver Symphony orchestra and at present a member of the Toronto Symphony. Excellent diction, a thorough knowledge of their work and a true genuine love for music was displayed by the entire group from the very first song to the stimulating singing of O. Canada as their final number.

Of extreme interest to the Crow's Nest Pass was the excellent rendition of the Ballad on the Frank slide disaster of 1903, and we living in this district must confess that it took a group of Torontonians to inform us that such a musical work exists as it was the first time anyone heard this.

Each singer sang the solo with choral accompaniment, with such ease and sincerity that one would have thought many years of their life was spent on the stage, and it would be difficult to be able to choose which performer gave us the best rendition, however the Baby Sitter's song did receive great applause. The folk dancer duo, Roselyn and Marcel, who have coveted honors from the Dominion Ballet Festival for three consecutive years held the audiences attention throughout their entire performance.

The very professional piano playing of Mrs. Fagel Gartner was a predominating feature throughout the entire performance and it also is no wonder, that group in the hands of such a capable musician presented such an artistic program. She was presented with a bouquet of flowers by little Leanne Damico of Coleman.

TRANSITION: A little more than 50 years ago, the Canadian Pacific Railway introduced to Canadians their first internal combustion self-propelled car (inset). This month (November) the C.P.R. is placing in service four of the very latest in self-propelled cars—the Budd RDC's. Patterned along "Toonerville Trolley" lines, the old gasoline-powered, single track rail car was 13 feet long and carried 14 passengers. Today's 90-foot Budd car carries 89 persons and is air-conditioned.

Old 502, the first of the breed in Canada, was also air-conditioned, but in a primitive sort of way—she had open sides. Unimpressive as the old car was, she can still lay claim to being the forerunner of the modern, stainless steel, streamlined rail diesel cars which today are providing service between Montreal and Mont Laurier, Toronto and Detroit and North Bay and Angliers. The original rail car, built in 1902, operated from Montreal's old Place Viger Station to Ste. Therese.—Canadian Pacific Railway Photo.

Full-of-Fight Greyling Draw Anglers To Northern Manitoba

Ducks Have Decreased But the Sportsmen Need Not Come Back Empty-Handed

(By Dave Stockand)

WINNIPEG. — You don't know too much about sports fishing? Small matter if it's Arctic greyling you're after. The greyling is a fighting fish of silver beauty. It will rise to any lure. Its numbers are countless and it makes a good meal.

Geography is the major challenge. The greyling are natives of the North, of the waters flowing into Hudson Bay and the Arctic ocean.

Northern Manitoba is greyling country, but Northern Manitoba with its stubby-treed tundra and just a sprinkling of population is no place for an angler planning to use the family car. No roads.

Nor can he depend on railway transportation, except possibly for the starting lap of the expedition. The same goes for scheduled airlines.

The Manitoba government Bureau of Travel and Publicity says the fighting fish with the big dorsal fin are gaining popularity with sportsmen—and gives some of the credit to obstacles thrown up by the land.

"Camping and guiding arrangements must be made well in advance of the actual hunt into greyling country," the bureau says. "Most greyling fishermen travel by chartered plane. But some go as far as they can by rail and take to canoes for the rest of their transportation."

"The greyling are there—they're just hard to get at. And if that isn't a challenge to the eager angler, what is?"

In few words Chief Justice E. A. McPherson can describe the changes which have taken place during the 50 years he hasn't missed an opening day of the duck-hunting season on Manitoba's delta marshes.

"The ducks have decreased considerably in number," he says, "and the number of hunters has increased."

"When I started shooting the limit was 50 birds a day and the season was longer," recalls the chief justice, who bagged his first duck 59 years ago. "Now the limit is 10 each day and the season is shorter."

Nevertheless, he isn't worried about coming back empty handed in future shooting seasons. He says, "It's true there aren't as many ducks today as there used to be, but there are still lots of them."

And how did the judge make out on opening day this year? He got his limit in about two hours.

Manitoba Has Most Polio In North America

WINNIPEG.—Manitoba has had more polio cases this year than any other place in North America, Dr. M. R. Elliott, deputy minister of health, said.

In an address to the Winnipeg citizens' polio prevention committee, he said one out of every 330 Manitobans has had polio this year, and there has only been six weeks in 1953 in which cases of polio had not been recorded in Manitoba.

The incidence of paralytic polio has been "extraordinarily high," with 62 per cent. of all cases having some degree of paralysis. The polio case-total to date this year is 2,358 with 81 deaths.

Funny and Otherwise

Husband: It's raining honey. Wife: I got some. We'll have waffles for breakfast.

It was midnight. "If I had money," droned the bore, "I'd travel."

"Well, she said, reaching for her bag, 'how much do you need?'"

A young husband did not like hash. His wife acquired a French cookery book, giving many recipes for using leftovers. The next evening one of the fancy mixtures in a covered dish appeared on the table.

The husband reached over and raised the cover, but his wife said: "Why don't you ask the blessing first, dear?" Replied the husband: "I don't believe there's anything here that hasn't already been blessed."

Recent bride (to magistrate): "I can't stand it any longer. My husband actually swore at me. And I was learning to drive just to please him."

Magistrate: "What did he say?"

"He sat there in the ditch and said, 'Holy cats, woman, didn't you see that lorry?'"

He decided to go lion-hunting in Africa. When he told his wife, she said, "Not without me," and his wife's mother also declared herself a member of the party. So off they all went.

One night the man and his wife awakened in a jungle glade vaguely conscious of the fact that something was missing. The something was mother. They searched for her for hours. Eventually they found her cowering in a clearing, with an enormous lion roaring at her ten feet away.

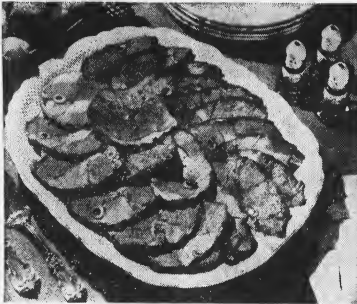

"Heavens, George," screamed the wife, "what shall we do?" "Nothing," said the husband. "The lion got himself into the fix. Now let him get out of it."

"So you're not on speaking terms with your neighbor?" "No. He sent me a cat of oil to use on my lawnmower when I started to cut the grass at 6 in the morning. I sent it back and told him to use it on his wife when she started singing at 11 at night."

A minister and his wife were discussing two men who were in the news. "Yes," said the minister, "I knew them both as boys. One was a clever, handsome fellow; the other a steady hard worker. The clever lad was behind in the race, but the hard worker—well, he died and left sixty thousand dollars to his widow. It's a great morale, you know."

"Yes," replied his wife, with a great smile. "It is I heard this morning that the clever one is going to marry the widow."

APPETIZING RECIPES

A roast leg of lamb takes well to seasonings when it's served hot, and in this version of Spanish Lamb, it's just as tasty sliced and cold.

Spanish Lamb

One leg of lamb, 1 garlic clove, mashed, ½ tsp. oregano, ½ tsp. salt, 1 tsp. pure monosodium glutamate, 2 tbsps. lemon juice, ¼ tsp. Tabasco sauce, 20 small stuffed olives, 2 strips bacon, each cut in 5 pieces, 10 tiny pickled onions. Make 10 holes about 2 inches deep on top surface of lamb, using handle of sturdy wooden spoon. Combine garlic, oregano, salt, pure monosodium glutamate, lemon juice and Tabasco sauce, mix well. In each hole, insert an olive, a piece of bacon, an onion, some of the garlic mixture, and a second olive. Roast lamb in open roaster in moderate oven (325 degrees F.) 30 to 35 minutes per pound.

LIFTED RESTRICTIONS MAY CAUSE PRICE DROP OF BEAVER COATS

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask.—Mildly can look forward to a slight drop in the price of beaver coats.

It's all due to the spread of a little-known disease among Canada's beaver population, particularly in northern Saskatchewan.

The Saskatchewan conservation board—in an attempt to stamp out the malady—has decided to put conservation into reverse and allow trappers to take extra-heavy quotas of beaver this season.

There will be no indiscriminate killing, however. Trappers' councils which represent those working the trappelines in the various conservation blocks in the north, will set the number of beaver which can be taken.

A total of 23,000 beaver pelts were taken last season and this winter's trapping will take many more. The effect of the move on beaver pelt prices is not known, but the experts predict it will force a drop in prices.

MORE BEAVER

WINNIPEG.—An open season on beaver south of the 53rd parallel for licensed trappers was declared by the Manitoba government, first open season in more than 25 years in southern Manitoba. Increase in number of beaver allows an open season from Nov. 15 to April 24.

Calgary Has Record Tourist Season

During the first eight months of this year, 17,920 tourists visited the Calgary Tourist Information Bureau. This is a jump of 600 over the all-year records for 1952. The Calgary Stampede, of course, brought in the majority of visitors, with July 8 being the busiest day on record for the Tourist Information Bureau. On that day 365 visitors thronged to the bureau at 810 Centre Street. Some 51,800 maps and other literature was distributed from the bureau and by mail to the end of August.

Empress, Alta., Woman Has Fine Collection Of Buttons

—Has Over 4,300 Specimens

When visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Florence, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Barber, of Empress, brought along the principal part of the button collection made by Mrs. Barber since 1946. "The best part of a collection like this is that it is very portable," said Mrs. Barber "for it goes nicely into a middle-sized suitcase."

The collection was started when the Barbours moved from their farm at Empress to live in the town. Mrs. Barber's hobby had always been house plants but her house in Empress was smaller, the plants were not too convenient to move and an odd little incident started her collecting buttons about the same time.

While the move to town was in progress she, one day, kicked up a small red button on the street and pleased with its odd decoration she took it home, shortly after she read an article about a man who had an extensive button collection and also made a business of dealing in buttons for button collectors. Going through her sewing materials during the move she found about 200 different buttons. Her sister in the east, hearing about her interest, sent her a cigar box full of buttons. That gave her another 300 buttons. A cousin supplied a number. Soon Mrs. Barber had about a thousand buttons. That meant some way of classifying them needed to be carried out on the collection. The arrangement of her collection began. Mr. and Mrs. Barber travel a good deal and everywhere they go they hunt for buttons. They know the buttons in the collection so well that they are quite sure when they find different buttons in a Curiosity Shop White Elephant or Good Will shop.

A good many people hearing of their interest have sent them buttons and they have more than 4,300 buttons now classified on heavy cards.

One of the most interesting cards is one on which the buttons demonstrate the many kinds of material from which they have been made. To name a few, there are lead, glass, pewter, brass horn, cut glass, amber, foie gold, whalebone, pressed paper, stone, agate, gold, silver, cut steel, jet and china.

One card is made up completely of jet buttons and trim which were marks of the late Victorian period in fashion. Another card is all buttons of white mother of pearl and another card has smoked pearl buttons.

In the coat button collection there is a roughly made button of bone which was found in a gravel pit and which likely came from the heavy buffalo coat of the earlier settlers here.

One card has a collection of buttons from uniforms of all kinds, including a button from a R.N.W.M.P. uniform. Another card exhibits navy buttons entirely. A set of maroon buttons is arranged to look like a necklace, and a very pretty one it makes.

One entertaining group of buttons all came from "the kind of house dress that sells for $1.88." Mr. Barber said. There are all very thin buttons and none of them could possibly be much more than a decoration, no one would trust long to them holding at the shank.

There is a card of the little buttons once used for trimming on dresses, suits and blouses, which will be remembered by those who wore the rows and rows of minute buttons on sleeves or the front of georgette blouses.

It's a dandy hobby for many of the buttons have interesting histories and many are old enough to be classified as antique. Some of them are very beautiful and exhibit exquisite workmanship, as in the cut glass and French enamel buttons. The hobby isn't expensive either. It provides plenty of occupation for cold winter evenings and an objective on trips.

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

If wife snores, her husband usually keeps it a secret. If a husband snores, a wife usually reveals her spouse's affliction to her friends. Generally in complaining the snoring keeps her awake. I recently noted that a journalistic adviser on the problems of married life informed her readers that her husband snored. That certainly is giving a man's snoring plenty of publicity.

Small-Salaried Genius

The superintendent, or top man of the world famous Scotland Yard of England, is paid a salary equivalent to $2,600 a year. Rookie cops get close to that in this country. The present head of Scotland Yard, Robert Fabian, is one of the world's most brilliant police officials.

Without Onions, Sir

What is the difference between a hamburger steak and a Salisbury steak? A Salisbury steak is simply a hamburger steak without onions. It is named in honor of the Third Marquis of Salisbury, once prime minister of England. The marquis was very fond of hamburger steak. However, Queen Victoria strongly objected to the odor of onions. So, the marquis, when dining on his head and stimulate hair growth. Do that morning and night. Follow it each time by a ten-minute scalp massage.

For The Customer

How welcome do the restaurateurs you patronize make you feel? Do they show any particular appreciation for your business? In Detroit, there is a fellow who really appreciates a customer. When a reservation is phoned in, he has a reserved card made with the customer's name on it. Also provides match folders with the customer's monogram on same. On the table is an envelope in which is enclosed the cost of the phone call for the reservation.

Better Ask The Hen

Is the "battery hen" system of egg production cruelty to animals? That question is frequently discussed. I think it is. Many organizations devoted to preventing cruelty to animals believe so. The Danish government does not approve of it. The battery hen system is illegal in Denmark. A battery hen will produce about 40 more eggs a year than a barnyard hen. The question is, will the battery hen eggs be as good?

To Prevent Baldness

Are you losing more hair than you care to, sir? Is the fear of growing bald depressing you? Among the baldness prevention cures I have heard of lately is putting your head between your knees for a period. This will get the blood in your head and stimulate hair growth. Do that morning and night. Follow it each time by a ten-minute scalp massage.

How To Be Wealthy

So, young man, you want to get rich. Or, at least, financially independent. The advice of one millionaire businessman was for a young fellow to get a product that sells for five or ten cents, and can be used only once. Give a thought to some of the fortunes made with such a product. Chewing gum, for example. Also candy bars, soft drinks, etc. The advice aforementioned was given years ago. Therefore, I believe it could go above a dime at present, say to 20 cents. That would bring in cigarettes.

Fear Of Dentists

Now there is a pill which if taken before a visit to a dentist, is claimed to eliminate any fear or nervousness the patient may have. It is said red-haired people have the most fear of dentists. Harry Grab, one of the most courageous boxers of all time, feared no man in the ring but was scared of dentists. Once in Pittsburgh, Harry became so alarmed when a dentist picked up an instrument he jumped from the chair and ran out of the office.

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

GOD DWELLS IN EVERY HUMAN HEART

When the Psalmist wrote "Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against Thee," what did he mean?

In the New Testament, in John 1, is the account of the Word that was in the beginning, the Word made flesh, dwelling among men in the earthly life of Jesus, "the Word that was with God, and was God."

But what did the word of God mean to Old Testament writers, who wrote many years before Jesus came?

For them, as for those of the New Testament, it meant God in the heart, and the "heart" was the centre of man's life and being. To have God in the heart meant to be guided and controlled by God.

So the word of God in the heart was a word of law and command. The good life was not a matter of chance, or of man's preference. It was based on the unalterable character and laws of God Himself.

This elemental truth, so repeatedly emphasized in the Psalms, has been sadly neglected even by many who make profession of religion and consider themselves among the saved.

Urges Tourist Promotion

Returns on Investment of Taxpayers' Money in Tourist Industry Come as High as 300%, Says Travel Bureau Expert

"Let's start talking" and boost Manitoba's attractions to ourselves and friends, W. B. Fraser, Assistant Director of the Bureau of Travel and Publicity, urged members of the Fort Garry Kiwanis Club at a recent meeting at Winnipeg.

Visitors are coming to Manitoba in greater numbers each year "largely because we are holding our own against stiff competition in the tourist promotion field," Mr. Fraser stated.

"Don't deny money spent on promotion of this industry," he urged. Returns on investment of the taxpayers' money in the tourist industry come as high as 300 per cent. on one item alone. Some $350,000 in gasoline tax was paid by tourists in Manitoba to the provincial government during 1952.

Tourists do not come without inducement offered by provincial and federal publicity services. Annual tourist surveys indicate that more than 50 per cent. of the province's visitors come as a direct result of Manitoba's publicity programs.

We have only just scratched the surface in the development of Manitoba's potential tourist attractions. Native Manitobans can be found anywhere who have never been to the Whiteshell Forest Reserve. In addition to its myriad of lakes and streams, its 1,300 private cottages and 40-odd tourist camps remains of ancient cultures lay untapped and undeveloped within the area.

Tourist promotion has already brought a new highway and new wealth to the Flin Flon-The Pas area; brings upwards of 250 sportsmen per year to the God's Lake area at $400 per week; and accounts for bookings for the annual August excursion to Churchill being complete by May—Saskatchewan Enterprise.

every nominal Christian and church member had the Psalmist's passion to have the word of God hidden in the heart, so deep and strong that it was the motive power of every word and action! To be "upright and innocent from the great transgression" must be the sincere purpose of every man who would be worthy of a place in the fellowship of those who love the Lord.

The New Testament reveals the word of God as love, and the indwelling of God's Spirit as the source of spiritual power to obey the word.

To hear and obey the voice of God within is man's highest attainment and destiny.

England has more than 60,000 lakes.

ODDITIES In The News

She tried passionate advances, she tried poetic love letters. They all failed. So 44-year-old spinster Catherine Tsakarakos, of Athens—helped by four cousins—kidnaped handsome 24-year-old shepherd Athanasios Kapsalas from Castania village, central Greece, and took him to the hills. Still she failed to win his love. Then a distant relative died in the United States and left her $3,000. Now Catherine is Mrs. Kapsalas.

Farmer W. Grady Dinsmore, of Russell, Ga., handed out swift justice to the thief who stole his wallet containing $900. Finding a $20 bill near his barn Dinsmore deduced that his two calves were the culprits. He killed them and cut them open. In the stomach of one he found $850, slightly the worse for wear.

Alberta Bids For 1958 Ski Olympics

If operations continue as planned, Banff will be the site of the 1958 Olympics of Skiing. The Alberta Amateur Skiing Association has made formal application to the Federation International de Ski to hold the meet in Alberta, and, according to Association officials, the decision is almost clinched.

The Banff site was decided upon some time ago as the only slope in the country that could handle a four-way FIS meet. The FIS meeting this year is being held in Sweden and the body will decide during the meet the site of the next World Championships. If the decision is in Alberta's favour, the province has pledged support to the extent of $20,000.

Coleman High School Curling

In 1948 a group of boys from grades nine to twelve asked permission from the men's curling club to use the rinks, and this being granted, Coleman high school curling had its start. Because of the short season the boys played only three or four games, but their enthusiasm was so great that they made big plans for the next year.

In 1949 the boys persuaded the girls to join in the game and seven teams were formed, each consisting of two boys and two girls. Mr. Allen announced that the Coleman Lions Club had donated a curling trophy in order that the curlers would compete for something as well as learn the trait of sportsmanship. Jack Kerr and his team of Bill Kerr, Audrey Erickson and Jean Parker came out on top to win the Coleman high school curling trophy. This season finished with Bob Park, Jack Kerr, George Fomenko and Peter Kovack travelling to Calgary to participate in the Alberta high school curling playoffs. There the boys found the competition keen and with their little experience they were no match for the opposing team.

In 1950 the number of teams was raised to nine and that season finished with Bob Park, Donald Wilson (now of Drumheller), Elizabeth Ballak and Marlene Bell winning the curling trophy. That year Bob Park, Jack Kerr, Barry Park and Felix Mikuse represented the school in Calgary and showed an increased ability to compete with outside teams although they lost out in some very close games.

In 1952-53 the competition was greater for the playoff for the curling trophy required two round robins. In which Bill Kerr's team, consisting of Stanley Mikuse, Dora Gentile and Ada Richards, came through with flying colors to win the trophy. It was George Jenkins, Bill Kerr, Robert Rypien and Kenneth Lathwaite who went to the out-of-town game.

The curling season is again rolling around this year and Coleman high school curling group are looking forward to a much better season than the last.

— George Jenkins.

Civil Defence

Too many people in our community are unaware of the significance of the Civil Defence organization in town. The importance and success of this project is based entirely on the attitude of the citizens. As we all know Civil Defence plays an important role in the event of disaster and need. Each and every one of us should be prepared to face and assist in time of calamities such as floods, fires and welfare needs.

Civil Defence is a tremendous unit controlled by a central group and carried on throughout such democratic countries as Great Britain, United States, and Canada. We must not think that we are isolated in our little community, for we are all linked together in this huge scheme where everyone must play his part, in order for the venture to succeed.

Co-operation is essential among the nation and Civil Defence should be supported by each little community. Municipalities should be trained to handle emergencies so that they will be able to cope with local disasters. The value of Civil Defence is unlimited, for although it is depended on during war, the main emphasis is placed on the prompt action and help it supplies us in emergencies in our every-day life.

During the fall of 1950 fifteen members of our community attended the first meeting of Civil Defence, which was and still is controlled by the town council's authority. One year was required to decide on what to do — for these people were tackling a huge idea and they have done such a fine job that at the present date Coleman can compare favorably with many of our large cities in our Civil Defence work. The Civil Defence school was set up in the spring of 1951, when the staffs for each particular sections were appointed. Mr. John A. MacDonald was appointed as defence controller and has retained this position up to the present date.

As we mentioned previously, Civil Defence is not only a war effort but is capable of rendering assistance during any serious emergencies. You may wonder what Civil Defence can possibly do during peace-time. During major catastrophes such as fires, floods and tornadoes, where a large number of people are involved, Civil Defence renders aid and policing where it is needed. Evacuation is carried out if necessary, and food and shelter are provided. Debris is cleared up and buildings and damaged property are reconstructed so the people may start to work again. The paramount importance of Civil Defence at present is to help people to help themselves. The one example that comes to mind is the householder. She can indeed profit from training in fire, first aid and home nursing. Active work around Canada, already accomplished by Civil Defence can be illustrated by many examples such as the Winnipeg floods, the Samia tornados and Barrhead, North Alberta, where Civil Defence assisted in the evacuation from a burning hospital. We must always be on the alert and our Civil Defence organizers are doing this by giving the public information and training under various divisions.

In Coleman the division heads are as follows:

Canadian Sets Precedent When Named Head of Hotel Greeters

Mrs. Victoria Frazer-Crierie of Vancouver set a precedent when she became the first Canadian ever to be named president of the women's division of the Hotel Greeters of America. Seen in Toronto on her way to a conference of greeters from Mexico, the U.S. and Canada, in New York, Mrs. Frazer-Crierie jokingly told reporters that a lot of people who leave hotels still think the towels are just another keepsake to take home with the soap.

Minor Hockey Highlights . . . remember when ?? ?? ??

(by Adam Kryczka)

Peter Chaluk admitted kicking the puck into the Vegreville net in the Alberta Midgets final of the 1949-50 season. This goal could easily have decided the series. Sportsmanship like that is not very often exhibited around hockey palaces any more.

The Coleman Grands, featuring many graduates of the Coleman Pee Wee hockey system, won the Western Canada Intermediate hockey championship of the 1946-1947 season.

The Chicago Black Hawks of the N.H.L. invited former C.H.S. students Alex Kovack, Richard Antenenko and Ted Kryczka to their professional hockey training camp in the fall of 1948-49.

The Coleman Comets won the Alberta "B" Midget title and then challenged the Calgary Buffaloes for the Alberta "A" title and were routed in a two-game total-goal series by score of 23-5. Year —1949-50.

William Truch gained nine shutouts in 15 Pee Wee hockey matches. Really a remarkable feat —Year 1950-51.

Ted Kryczka and Alex Kovack were burning up the ice lanes for the Coleman Juveniles of 1945-46.

Mr. J. McDonald and Mr. Cousins managed the Coleman high school hockey teams.

George Jenkins sniped the winning goal to give the Coleman Comets the Alberta "B" midget championship in a thrilling overtime series.

George Kolibas saved Coleman from being swamped by the powerful Calgary midgets with his lone tally. Incidentally, Coleman lost by a 12-1 score.

Captain Joe Kryczka received on behalf of the 1951-52 Coleman Juveniles the Greenhill Trophy, symbolic of C.N.P. juvenile supremacy. This was the first time Coleman juveniles had ever captured this coveted piece of hockey silverware.

The 1952-53 Coleman juveniles lost 5-3 to the Lethbridge crew in the last three minutes of play.

Eddie Belter dipped, twiddled thru the Canmore juveniles defence to register a well-earned hat trick. His first of the 1952-53 season.

The "under-dog" Coleman Comets upset Bellevue in the first game of the 1949-50 midget play-downs with a decisive 2-0 win.

John Tarcon romped the ice lanes for the 1951-52 Coleman Comets and compiled enough points to gain "runner-up" spot in the C.N.P. Midget Hockey League scoring parade.

Barry Fraser shifted opposing defence blocks time and time again to lead the 1952-53 Coleman All-Stars to the Alberta bantam final.

The hectic series between the Calgary Argo juveniles of 1943-44 and the Coleman juveniles who boasted such famous local stars as Jimmy Slugg and Johnny Rypien.

Coleman's own minor hockey graduates Johnny Rypien and Jimmy Slugg circled the ice paths with the Edmonton Canadians, Alberta junior champions, and how both of these boys captured the scoring championship in two successive years.

Starry Mike Hudz, another Coleman product, bolstered the Edmonton Canadians, in Trail during the Western Canada junior hockey final.

Don Kirk started his hockey career in the local ice palace and then followed it up with sensational performances for the University of Alberta Golden Bears. Donnie Fraser, Edmonton Oil Kings of 1951-52 sparked in the Coleman Pee Wee hockey system.

Pee Wee Puck Notes:
Pee Wee hockey was first organized in the town of Coleman during the season of 1935-36. The original executive in charge of Pee Wee operations was Bob Pattinson. Mayor George Pattinson, Mr. B. Bell, Mr. J. McDonald, Mr. G. Nurcombe, Mr. F. Abousaif, Mr. B. Gates, Mr. J. Watreson and Mr. R. Spillers, Mr. Spillers, of the original executive, is still capably handling the hockey youth of this town, particularly the Pee Wee pucksters.

The premiere Pee Wee league included such teams as the Elks, the Slovaks, the Shamrocks, the Polish Eagles, the Italians and the Pattinsons. At present the league consists of four teams, sponsored by the Elks Lodge, Lions Club, the B. E. S. L. Legion and Pattinson's Hardware.

During the first of the 17 years of Pee Wee organization the youngsters had very little chance to participate in our arena because of the presence of senior hockey. However, with the birth of the Coleman Community Sports Association came the opportunity for amateur hockey to gain a rank and for everyone to enjoy the recreation facilities provided by the town.

The teams compete annually for the Red and White cup, donated to the league by Bill Gate. In former years the league honored the scoring champion with a jacket and crest emblematic of his achievement. The scoring championships have of late been discontinued because they made for selfish play among certain team players. Finding its way into the Pee Wee system for the first time in 1947-48 was the beautiful Lesion Memorial Trophy presented to the player most valuable to his team during the entire season. This memorial trophy is a means of commemorating our Fallen Heroes of World War II, many of whom donned a pair of skates for their first time in Coleman. Winners of this trophy have been 1947-48, P. Chaluk; 1949-50, Alex Cornett; 1950-51, B. Helmer; 1951-52, William Truch.

Turning to the teams themselves we find that some of the most outstanding squads in local league play were the undefeated Lions of 1945-46, captained by Eddie Glowacz; the undefeated Legionnaires of 1946-47, captained by Peter Kovack; and finally the undefeated Pattinsons of 1949-50 captained by Joe Kryczka. Among the better All-Star bantam aggregations to represent Coleman in provincial playdowns were the 45 bantams who reached the Alberta bantam final only to lose out to Calgary. Members of this team were Paul Silvers, Mike Aldoff, Alex Kovack, Howard Bennett, Geno Salvador, Weston Collins, Larry Sullivan, Andrew Salus, Glen Fraser, Robert Wilson, Kenneth Jackson, Tommy Gajdos, John Graham, Donnie Fraser, Ed Antenenko and Albert Gettman.

Coach, Mike Hudz.
The All-Stars of '46 captured the C.N.P. bantam championship. Members: G. Fomenko, Albert Hatalcik, Eddie Glowacz, Albert Gettman, Jack Kerr, W. Tiberghien, R. Laithwaite, W. Zur, I. Thomson, P. Kovack, S. Kapakia, E. Phillips and R. Braden.

Coach, J. Biegun.
Another exceptional All-Star group was the club of 1951-52. Unfortunately, this squad had no sponsor, consequently it did not enter the Alberta bantam play-downs. Finally about the most prominent bantam club was that of 1952-53 which reached the Alberta bantam final only to lose out to an All-Star aggregation from N. Alberta. Members: J. Joseph, S. Saloff, B. Fraser, Ed Filafilo, G. Kerr, P. Makowick, F. Churla, R. Chemecky, R. Hoyatt, D. Gentile, R. Cornez, L. Evans, J. Tarcon, Steve Lisaka.
Coach, J. Morris.

Midget Matter—
Midget teams in the town of Coleman were not entered in any league until 1950-51. However the Coleman midget clubs were major contenders for the Alberta title as far back as the '30's and duelled such stiff opposition as Calgary and Lethbridge. All-Star club. Among those clubs to bring midget honors to Coleman were: midget of 1943-44, who captured the Alberta midget championship and the 1949-50 midgets who won the Alberta "B" midget championship.
Members: J. Gettman, N. McNeil, L. Sikora, R. Aldoff, A. Kovack, E. Lant, T. Kryczka, R. Antenenko, N. Ford, B. Anderson and J. McIntyre.

Coach, Mike Hudz. Manager, Ray Spillers. Year, 1943-44.
P. Chaluk, J. Kryczka, F. Oliva, David Vasek, George Jenkins, W. Douglin, S. Halluk, A. Siska, G. Kolibas, H. DeCeece, J. Nowosad, B. Barry, S. Saloff and N. Levasseur. Year 1949-50.

Another Coleman club worthy of mention is that of 1951-52, which made a gallant bid for the Alberta title but were halted in their quest by the Gleichen Gunners in a playoff for the Central Alberta midget honors.

Members: B. Kuchyn, K. Koury, J. Wilkie, A. Cornett, W. Tymchyna, B. Park, J. Tarcon, I. Knowles, L. Rasmussen and K. Laithwaite, D. Fraser, R. Rypien.

Coach, Mike Kyruk.
Since 1950-51 the Coleman Comets have been annually competing in the Crow's Nest Pass midget hockey league, but, so far no Coleman club has won the coveted Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co trophy emblematic of the C.N.P. midget reign.

The Jist and Gest of Juvenile Hockey
Juvenile hockey gained a poor early start in Coleman and therefore did not become too prominent until 1945-46. Although it did not flourish at first, juvenile hockey did help produce such grinds as Fred Beddington and Calvin Godfrey, only to mention a few.

During 1945-46 the juveniles had a particularly good season.

Members of this team: P. Silver, D. Cherry, R. Antenenko, H. Bennett, L. Sullivan, T. Kryczka, A. Kovack, J. Gettman, N. Ford, E. Lant and L. Sikora.

The juveniles entered the newly organized C.N.P.J.H. league in 1950-51 but this year lost out to the Blairmore Bear Cats in the league final. However, the story was different in 1951-52 and the locals brought the Greenhill silverware to Coleman.

Coleman again captured the cup in 1952-53. These two latter teams also represented the C.N.P. in the Alberta provincial junior playdowns. Both times, unfortunately the Coleman clubs were stopped by the high-flying Miners from Drumheller. These teams boasted such players as S. Halluk, J. Nowosad, J. Kryczka, G. Jenkins, R. Koentjes, R. Truett, A. Kryczka, A. Siska, D. Young, A. Tomlins, J. Anderson, D. Jamieson, R. Blake, W. Tymchyna, P. Filwich, E. Belter, J. Tarcon, P. Oliva and D. Kremnicka.

Because there is such a great number of players and facts involved in the history of Coleman's midget hockey it is impossible for us to cover them all. We have tried to cover the more prominent ones.

Meeting Votes For Rodeo For 1954

A rodeo for Coleman in 1954 coupled with a talent show seems to be certain as the result of the last Board of Trade meeting.

The matter of the rodeo was discussed to a great extent at the meet, the feeling being that the annual event should be carried on for another year. The matter was left in abeyance, Jim Wilkie to report at the next meeting in regards a Stampede Association meeting he would attend in Calgary. It was felt that Jim could report a tentative date for the show after this meeting.

Following the success of last year's talent show, it was felt that a similar project should be held this year in conjunction with the rodeo.

Editorial . . .

Congratulations are in order to the students of the Coleman High School for the commendable job of editing the Journal last week.

The Journal has been receiving praise from Coleman residents and even from Editors and Publishers of other weekly papers with the note that this praise be passed on to the students. The issue reflects great credit on the Coleman school, its staff and the students.

The entire project worked with harmony and enthusiasm. During the week previous to publishing, your editor had the opportunity of watching the students at work typing and interviewing local residents. From the very start all indications pointed to a first class editing job.

As we mentioned last week, so many interesting articles had been written that the Journal found it impossible to carry them all in one issue. Be sure and watch for further articles as they appear.

Weekly Report
from the Coleman branch
Canadian Legion

"The Election of Officers will take place in the Club on Sunday 13th. December at 2:30 p.m.

The Legion Branch held a general meeting on Sunday last for the nomination of officers for 1954. The following were nominated. Election will take place on Sunday the 13th at 2:30;

President: J. Kulig. R. Parry M.M. Johnnie Kulig a veteran of the last war was President of the Club previously. Bob Parry a veteran of the first war and a Military Medallist was Vice President and President in lieu of the 1953 Chairman resigned.

Vice-Presidents: J. Kulig and E. Price

Executive: Comrades Kinneer, T. Sudworth, J. McDonald, M. Cooke, H. Moss, M. Drew, F. Hirst, J. Gray, C. Yates, R. Stubert, E. Fabro, H. McCartney. Comrades Szulc and Bazak were appointed to the Executive Committee as representing the Polish Veterans.

Hon. Presidents: His Worship the Mayor Aboussafy, H. Wilt on Clarke E. C. Clark.

Chaplain: Reverend Harry Moss D.C.M.

Secretary-Manager: E. A. Fontana.

Stewards: W. Makin, J. Perrisini.

A Membership Committee has been appointed and will meet monthly to review applications and all business connected with same. Application for membership should be made to the Secretary-Manager or Steward and the necessary form duly completed and signed will be forwarded to the Chairman of this committee.

There is a Legion Club Library in the basement room which is being checked and removed and will be re-open to members by January 1.

Padre Moss as chaplain to the Branch is Welfare Officer and will deal with all cases of required aid upon application. Special cards are in use for this purpose obtainable from the Steward. These must be produced upon applying and necessary to keep a record of all assistance etc., granted.

At the last Executive Meeting the President-Comrade R. Parry, expressed disappointment at the number of Legionnaires turning out on Remembrance Day. Comrades are reminded that this occasion demands attendance as a duty to those who gave all. It is an obligation resting upon every individual Legion member worthy of the name to support the aims and objects of the B.E.S.L. This annual commemoration is the Legion's expression of all that it stands for in honor of both the dead and the living.

Not only does the organization demand this as a duty, the public also expects its fulfillment. This sad lack of interest by many in the Legion is shown also in the running of the Club affairs and those responsible for this spirit of apathy and slackness are generally the first to bemoan the state to which their club is brought. Let us get together from now on and by our combined efforts and service make the Legion in our community an organization to be respected and honored. The opportunity is given all members to commence right away. Attend the election of officers. Make certain that the right men are put in responsible positions. Support those elected to executive posts.

Otherwise the individual has no right to criticise the new slate in 1954. We are a Service League. What is required from every individual member? Encourage all ex-service men to join. They will when we first put our own affairs to right. And to those who stand on the outside carping loudly we add "Come on in and help us — we need your support and comradeship." Who put the EX- before Service men. We were — we are — and must ever be true SERVING men.

A smoker is being arranged for in the club before Christmas. Tickets will be on sale at one dollar a head and every service man is asked to attend.

Christian Leadership School Official Visits Coleman

Mr. R. McLaren, principal of the Christian Leadership Training School at Naramata, B.C., visited Coleman Friday, November 6. He was guest speaker at an official Board Supper at the United Church which was well attended. Music was provided by the Junior Choir under Mrs. Arlene Hill. Their number "Beside Still Waters" was beautiful. Mrs. Gwen Cousins was accompanist. A male trio — Dr. E. C. Bryant, Robert Woods and Ray Burkinshaw sang "Though Your Sins Be As Scarlet".

Mr. McLaren was at Crossfield, Alberta and taught school at Castor before entering the ministry. He was Secretary of Boys Work for four years where he saw the great need for Leadership Training Schools for laymen. He quit his job and started out with no money but a great deal of faith, to work for a school. Today a six-month winter course is offered, of which 260 young people have taken advantage. Two-week summer courses are offered Sunday School teachers and other church workers. There are eight cottages for married couples and nurseries provided for children while the parents take courses. There are plans for building other similar schools across Canada. Mr. McLaren stressed the importance of Christianity to the individual life and explained his points in a simple, direct manner, backed by a winning personality. All who met Mr. McLaren were sorry his stay was so short. He left Saturday for Barons for a four-day Mission.

Civil Defence Lecture

About thirty persons attended the Civil Defence lecture held on Thursday, Nov. 26.

Mr. S. Ondrus gave the second lecture on gasses. He described the common gasses that could be met both in peace and war time. These are carbon monoxide, carbon tetrachloride, and methyl chloride. Of these three a respirator will not be of any value against carbon monoxide. Individual protection against gasses can be given by respiratory and detectors. For protection of large numbers of persons shelters and individual homes may be used.

Mr. Ondrus concluded his lecture by outlining the effect of ground and weather conditions on non-persistent and persistent gasses. The non-persistent gasses last much longer.

The various sections then continued their own special instruction. All sections received basic first aid training, while the women continued in their home nursing instruction.

Beginning this week, lectures will be held every two weeks. The next lecture falls in December 10. There will be no lectures during the Christmas holidays. The next school following the holidays will be on January 7, 1954.

The next lecture of the home-nursing will be held at the CNP Municipal hospital under the direction of Miss Cleins.

RECORD SET—What is probably a record for a single pile of wheat to be stored in an enclosure outside of large government elevators or terminals, was established at one of the large hangars at the airport near the city of Swift Current. Some 450,000 bushels of wheat was stored, which took in the neighborhood of 3,000 truck loads. This would fill about ten country elevators. The plan was of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool to cope with the bountiful harvest in the Swift Current district.

"SANTA CLAUS VILLAGE"—Canada now has its own "Santa Claus Village" with a permanent St. Nick. The white whiskered old gent took up residence in the village when he arrived by helicopter to the cheers of thousands of youngsters at Val David, Que., in the Laurentian Mountains. The village is a fairy centre of small houses, bright colors and a wide variety of friendly animals.

ROSTERN MILL GOES DOWN IN FLAMES—The two photos above give a clear picture of the disastrous fire which destroyed the Rostern Flour Mill recently at Rosthern, Sask. The mill was one of the oldest in Saskatchewan, it being built in 1907, and was valued in the neighborhood of $67,000. The mill was a landmark to many old-timers and travellers, who passed through central Saskatchewan.—Photos courtesy of Rosthern Valley News.

HERO'S WELCOME—New York Yankee and 1953 World Series baseball star Billy Martin gets a kiss and is wreathed in floral leis by a pretty Hawaiian upon his arrival in Honolulu. Martin is currently touring the Far East with Ed Lopat's All Stars.

REEL FUN — Four-year-old Daru Sena of Miami Beach, Fla., keeps her parents busy supplying goldfish for her indoor fishing haven. Confined to a wheel chair due to injuries sustained in a fall recently, the lass amuses herself by using rod and reel in the fish bowl at home.

QUEEN ELIZABETH—Waves graciously to huge crowds gathered in thin autumn sunshine outside Buckingham Palace in London as she rides in the Irish State Coach to the historic House of Parliament to read the Speech from the Throne at the formal opening of Parliament.

HAT WITH HEEL—This model isn't planning to stand on her head, she's just displaying one of Italy's latest ideas in novelty hats. Rome's stylists bewildered American tourists with this bizarre creation in Ostia Antica, ancient vacation spot of Caesar and Cleopatra.

GORDON MacMURCHY, well known in amateur hockey circles on the prairies, has again been engaged by the Foam Lake Flyers Hockey Club in the capacity of playing-coach.

The national flower of Hawaii is the hibiscus.

ATOMIC FIREBALL IN ACTION—A special camera with a millionth of a second exposure records the disintegration of a steel tower by an atomic fireball an instant after it was set off in Nevada. The camera that caught the exploding fireball is called the Rapatronic. It has an electronic shutter and no mechanical moving parts.

GASOLINE SHORTAGE—When the shortage of gasoline caught up with many Britons in the wake of a wildcat walkout by tank truck drivers, Lilo Blum, of Knightsbridge, London, simply employed the services of a donkey. Here she rides the animal along a London shopping district. Her purchases, of course, go into the basket.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Miss Blake to You!

Betty found out who will do the chasing.

By Vega Brown

IT WAS a horrid thing for Carol to do, especially after the way she had acted the night before at the Yacht club dance. But I suppose that was the very reason she said it. She was sore because she thought she had been fooled, but even so, it wasn't Ronnie's fault.

Carol and I had arrived at the beach hotel only the day before. I hadn't really wanted to go with Carol. Something cheaper would have suited me fine, but she has a way of talking people into things.

That first night we ran into Matt Bates and his friend in the lounge, and they took us to the dance. I remember Carol asking Matt about different people, who they were and what they did. I wasn't much interested, and so I missed hearing what he told her about Ronnie Smith. But when she said in an excited way, "Oh, be a sport, Matt, introduce me to him," I knew something was cooking.

Matt brought over a tall, blond boy. I hardly noticed him then.

He was Carol's boy, I figured, and let it go at that.

But the next morning I felt real sorry for him. He was looking after the hotel boats, we found. I noticed Carol color. He smiled and said, "Hello, Carol."

She looked at him as if he were dirt. "Miss Blake to you!" she said.

Some of the gang laughed, and he smiled and said, "Sorry, Miss, I won't offend again."

I was so mad I could have slapped her face. I went up to him and said out loud, "Don't take any notice, Mr. Smith."

"It was my fault," he said, quietly. "I forgot I was just the boat attendant, Miss."

"Don't you call me Miss," I said quickly. "I'm Betty." I felt my face getting red.

"If you come up to the dance tonight, Ronnie," I stammered, "I'll be proud to dance with you."

"I may take you up on that," he said slowly.

In the boat Carol made a couple of dirty cracks about my friendship with the hired help, but I took no notice. All the same I was a bit scared of her tongue.

I almost wished I hadn't been so impulsive about asking Ronnie to dance with me. But after the first dance I just didn't care.

Ronnie walked back to the hotel with me, and on the way he mentioned his job for the first time.

"I'll be through tomorrow night," he said. "I've just been helping a friend out, and he's coming back."

I felt awfully disappointed, and I guess he could hear it in my voice when I said, "I suppose you'll be going away then?" Because he leaned over and whispered in my ear, "I'll be around a while longer, Betty, if there is any chance of seeing more of you."

"If you really want," I told him, trying to keep my voice from sounding too eager.

At that he put his arm around me. I didn't mind. I knew what Carol would say, but I could take it. I was proud of Ronnie.

We were saying goodnight when Carol walked past with a boy, and I heard her snicker.

"I can't figure that girl out," Ronnie said. "She quit me last night as soon as she found out that I was the boat attendant—that I can understand—but why such a rush in the first place? I didn't want to be introduced to her."

It was my turn to laugh. "It was just a joke Matt played on her. Everyone knows she is just crazy to meet people with money, so Matt made out that you were the son of Delmar Smith, the big steel man."

"But how did Matt know who I was? I've never told anyone here."

"I told you it was just a joke," and then I realized what he had said. "Oh, no!" I gasped. "You're kidding me—why didn't you tell anyone?"

He looked sort of embarrassed. "Didn't want to be bothered. I guess. You know how girls are, always chasing a fellow if they think he has any money."

"Goodnight, Mr. Smith," I said. "Here is one girl who is not interested in chasing you!"

"Fine," he grinned. "Then I'll do the chasing."

EIGHT GALLONS

Two Dauphin Men Give Blood Freely

DAUPHIN, Man. — H. (Bert) Smart and Ed Tower appear to be running one-two in the blood donation race in the town of Dauphin. Both have received gold medals emblematic of 30 visits to a clinic, and between them, have given some eight gallons of blood over a 10-year period.

Mr. Smart is in the lead by two, 32 as to 30 for Mr. Tower, but this is made up of two blood transfusions which the latter has given.

Smart has a type blood with the rh factor negative and Tower has the rarer AB type.

Both began giving during the first years of the war and have never felt the effects yet. They average about two donations a year.

MEADOW LAKE GOING ON CASH BASIS

MEADOW LAKE.—At a meeting called by the local executive of the Retail Merchants Association some 50 or 60 business men of Meadow Lake and the surrounding district decided to go on a cash basis January first. The pros and cons were thoroughly threshed out, and although there are still details to be settled the merchants were unanimous in their decision.

WANT BETTER SCHOOL.—Parents in Center Township near Kokomo, Ind., set up picket lines to protest their children's attendance in school building they term "unsanitary and dangerous." Some 345 pupils turned the demonstration into an impromptu holiday.

FARMER KILLS 400-LB. BEAR WITH .22 RIFLE AND JACK KNIFE

While hunting for his horses that had strayed from his farm in Beaverdam, Mr. Steve Tverdochib was passing a small clump of spruce trees when he heard steps behind him. He turned and was astounded to see a large female right behind him.

Steve was carrying a .22 rifle at the time and took a shot at the bear who then turned to run some distance away. The bear paused then charged Steve who managed to get behind a spruce tree from where he shot again at the bear.

From there on it was to keep shooting at the bear and still keep the tree between himself and the enraged animal. Steve emptied his .22 which held 12 long rifle shells into the bear, but the only response he got every time he shot was a squeal.

When Steve ran out of shells, he attacked the bear with his jack knife. The animal, weakened by so many shots, soon went down under Steve's knife.

After the man vs. bear fight, Steve said he nearly fainted with exhaustion and relief.

His clothes all hung in shreds, including his trousers and underwear. It is estimated that the bear weighed 400 pounds.—Bonnyville Tribune.

IT'S A GOOSE BUT WHAT KIND?

Just what it is, is something Pete Turner of Outram, Sask., would like to know.

Out hunting ducks recently a couple of miles southwest of Outram, he came across a small flock of Canada geese and when they took over for other parts, he picked out a different looking one and knocked it down.

When he examined the bird later he found that it certainly wasn't a Canada goose, or a Snow Goose, or a Brandt's goose, or any other type that he knew anything about.

The coloring of the back and wings feather was a rich pearl-grey. The bird—it is a goose of some kind—had a snowy-white breast, black legs and feet and a neck and head of a tame goose. In fact, when expert hunters took a look at the head and neck they promptly said "tame goose," but when they looked at the body, wings and legs they could only say "not tame goose."

The fact that it has none of the coloring or markings of any known wild goose, and the fact that the head and neck resemble those of a tame goose, make Mr. Turner wonder if it might be a cross-breed between a wild and tame goose.

He recalls that last fall a flock of tame geese belonging to Charlie Collins of Outram, after a couple of weeks of test-fights, took off for points south one day and haven't been seen since.

The fact that he bagged this curiosity in the same general area from which the tame geese flew, makes him wonder, among other things, if there might not be some connection.

He also wonders why it was flying with Canada geese because geese are kind of clannish birds. But, first and last, Pete Turner sure would like to know just what kind of a goose it is.—Esteron Mercury.

New Guinea's greater bird of paradise, noted for its multi-colored plumage, is a cousin to the crow.

Railway Into Lynn Lake Will Serve A Vital Need

LYNN LAKE, Man. — A railway's northward march through barriers of rock and muskeg was heralded with the driving of a nickel spike forged from the ore which gave birth to Lynn Lake. In the spike is the first nickel from Sherritt-Gordon Mines' new operation, the reason for the 144-mile Lynn Lake rail line.

The Canadian National Railway line was constructed in 32 months, coinciding with the scheduled start of production of Lynn Lake's nickel and copper.

With the driving of the spike by Donald Gordon, CNR president, a train load of supplies for the town and mine was ready to roll into Lynn Lake, 500 miles northwest of Winnipeg, from the railroad at Sherridon, Man.

As the railway moved northward, so did much of Sherridon. In fact, it got to Lynn Lake first. During the last three winters tractor trains hauled entire buildings to Lynn Lake—houses, schools, churches, a bank, a hospital and other structures. As Sherridon slowly died, Lynn Lake came to life.

Decided to develop Lynn Lake's mineral deposits was made when it became apparent that the old Sherritt-Gordon mine was nearly exhausted.

The new deposit was discovered in 1941 by prospector Austin McVeigh. Diamond drilling started in 1945 and the results led to a request for a rail link.

Nickel concentrates from the mine will go to a new multi-million dollar metallurgical plant at Fort Saskatchewan, Alta., near Edmonton and copper concentrates to Noranda, Que.

At peak production the mine will yield 77,800 tons of nickel concentrate and 12,300 tons of copper concentrates annually. Cobalt and ammonium sulphate also will be produced.

The CNR also expects to handle fish traffic from Reindeer lake and other large northern lakes, and possibly some pulpwood.

The three channels of the Churchill river at Pukotawagan Falls were spanned by steel bridges originally fabricated in Canada for shipment to China. The Chinese Nationalist government was unable to take delivery.

Expect To Complete Saskatchewan No. 1 Highway Next Year

REGINA. — The Trans-Canada Highway through Saskatchewan is expected to be completed from the Manitoba border to Regina by the end of 1954, it was reported.

The last unpaved section is from Whitewood to Manitoba, a distance of about 43 miles. The largest part of the highway to be completed runs from Swift Current through Maple Creek to the Alberta border.

Home Workshop

As the principal use for today's project is that of decoration the choice of the material used is important. Maple would probably be best as it takes a fine finish and ages well. Clear white pine would also be appropriate. With the tracing guides on this pattern you can produce every detail of these quaint racks to make an attractive setting for your cherished antiques. If a jig saw is used to cut out the pieces there will be less work in finishing the edges than if a coping saw is used. The operations in order are tracing the pattern onto the wood, saving, assembling and finishing for which complete directions are given on pattern 231. Enclose 25c with name and address and pattern will be mailed the day your order is received.

MAKE PLYWOOD CORNICES AND SCALLOPED FRAMES TO FIT ANY WINDOW

PATTERN 207

This scallop pattern has a wide range of uses as there are twelve different sizes and shapes to be traced onto the wood. These sizes range from one inch to nineteen inches in width with the correct proportions in depth. Pattern 207 also illustrates the right way to make a cornice box for single windows of various widths and a group of windows framed together. In all there are nine styles of window framing illustrated on the pattern, as well as other ways to use these scallops in interior decoration. If you want to make draw curtains order pattern 325 which also shows the best method to use in curtaining more than a dozen different types of windows. Patterns are 35c each and will be mailed the day your order is received.

News Release

Friday, November 20, two carloads of young men arrived in Coleman from the Prairie Bible Institute of Three Hills, Alberta. In the company were ten young men from North American Continent under the leadership of Mr. Gene Emback and Mr. J. F. Kirk, the President of the Bible Institute.

Many people on the Saturday wondered what had happened when they saw these young men accompanied by two local workers spread across the Town of Coleman. These men did door to door visitation opening the truths of the Bible to many who never have heard right here in Canada and Coleman. Many there were found attend no place of worship in our midst.

On Saturday evening a Street Service was held with the Local Salvation Army with the aid of a P.A. system. This was followed by an indoor Gospel Rally at The Salvation Army Hall where a good number once again heard these fellows tell their stories of changes in their lives as well as bring many musical numbers.

Many again wondered at eleven o'clock what had happened when they heard the strains of music floating over the Valley of Coleman. The public address system was set up at The Salvation Army Hall and from the inside the Gospel Story went out across the town.

Again on Sunday morning the Delegation worshipped at The Salvation Army, with the President, Mr. J. F. Kirk bringing a soul-stirring message.

Only Meaneast Thief Would Re-sell T.B. Seals

Running at least a close second to the meaneast thief are those boys and girls, and sometimes adults, who are attempting to sell the Christmas Seals received in their own homes, and pocketing the money, according to a report from the Alberta Tuberculosis Association.

C. Robert Dickey, general secretary of the Association, says that only one method of raising money is used by the various Christmas Seal committees, and that no-one is authorized to sell Seals nor to collect money in the name of the committees or the Association. Seals are sent to householders for their own use only.

Any attempt to collect money for the TB fund or to sell Christmas Seals should be reported at once to the Alberta Tuberculosis Association, 7004 - 109th Street, Edmonton, or to the local committee, which is the Kinsmen Club TB Christmas Seal committee.

tee, which is the Kinsmen Club TB Christmas Seal committee for Lethbridge and district, Vernon H. Wheeler, chairman.
Christmas Seal contributions are income tax deductible and receipts will be sent on request.
